THE LAST STATION

UPCOMING EVENTS

In one of the most exciting projects in the history of the Dexter Historical Society, we are joining with the Dexter Volunteer Fire Department to add a second building to the Museum grounds. The new building, to be known as The Last Station, will house two historic pumpers and other items from the Fire Department's collection which illustrate the history of firefighting in Dexter. Located just to the east of the Museum, the Last Station will also provide much-needed storage space for the Society and a new entrance equipped with a lift connecting the buildings. Join us for our summer fund-raising events as we move forward with this ambitious project.
